

Best Seeds

A parent one-pager

Real skills. Real work. Real compensation.

What Best Seeds is

Best Seeds is an AI-powered career readiness platform for high school students, trade school students, and young adults ready to work. Students build the skills employers actually want — communication, problem-solving, and critical thinking — by working on real projects with real mentorship.

What your student walks away with

A polished resume, LinkedIn profile, short video introduction, and a case study of the work they did. Tangible proof of what they can do — the kind of artifacts that open doors with employers, colleges, and mentors.

Time commitment

Five-week hybrid cohort starting September 2026. A predictable weekly cadence students can fit around school, sports, and family.

Cost and compensation

No fees. Students are paid to participate. We're built for economic mobility — your student's time matters, and compensation reflects that.

Mentorship and safety

Every mentor clears a formal background check before working with students. Cohorts are small on purpose, with vetted mentors, clear communication channels, and a published code of conduct. Parents are kept informed through regular updates.

What we don't promise

We don't promise job placement. We promise genuine optionality — skills and proof your student owns, for whatever path they choose next.

Learn more or apply

Visit yourbestseeds.com · The Parents page has the full FAQ and a way to reach our team directly.